- A. Title of the Workshop/Activity: International Conference - 'Natural Products – Quality, Safety and Efficacy'
- B. Background: Natural products have been known for their medicinal uses for thousands of years. Natural products and biologically active compounds have intrigued and inspired research scientists, physicians, and patients alike for centuries. From ancient folk medicines to modern day targeted therapies, natural products and bioactive compounds have significantly enabled the progression of human health. Moreover, natural products have been the most successful source of leads for potential drug discovery.
- C. Aims/Objectives: encourage, inspire and motivate researchers, the conference also intended to serve as a forum for oral and poster presentations of research papers.
- Gain insights of physical, organic and synthetic properties of medications derived from natural sources
 - Discuss the recent advances in pharmacology and chemistry of natural compounds
 - Explore the details of lead finding and validation of natural products
 - Review the emerging trends and concerns in natural products discovery and development
- D. Location: SIES College of ASC
- E. Target audience/participants with expected number: (Target group): Faculty, Researchers, Students from Academic/Research Institutions and Representatives from Industry.

A National Level Webinar on Intellectual Property Rights

A National level Webinar on Intellectual property rights was conducted successfully by the SIES College of Arts, Science and Commerce [Autonomous] on 06-06-2020 jointly by The IQAC and the Chemistry department of the College via Zoom digital platform. Due to a huge response, the webinar was also aired live on the college YouTube channel. The registered participants were communicated about the detailed program schedule through a Telegram app group created by the organizing team for the event. The program began sharp at 11.00am with a brief welcome note by Dr. Laxmi. She apprised the audience of certain rules to adhere to so as to ensure smooth and effective conduct of the webinar.

This was followed by the Principal Dr. Uma Shankar's welcome address. She briefed the audience about the glorious background of SIES college, its contribution to society and nation building in the field of higher education during the 60 long years of its existence standing tall with its achievements as it entered its Diamond Jubilee this year. She also introduced the resource person for the webinar Dr. Bhaskar Idage among a vibrant audience of more than 1200 participants from all parts of the country. Thereafter, the IQAC coordinator Ms. Geeta Paluskar shared with the participants the objectives and goals of the webinar. As per the revised accreditation framework of NAAC, it is emphasized that higher education institutes foster research culture and create an innovation research ecosystem. Researchers and faculty members develop content and share their work with the world all the time and also cite and refer to others' work. It therefore becomes important for budding researchers and knowledge content creators to have a sound knowledge of Intellectual Property rights so as to be able to protect their own research activity while at the same time give due credit to referenced content. Hence the need of the webinar to sensitize the audience on the protection of Intellectual property rights and the various national and international regulations to safeguard them.

The resource person Dr. Idage, an eminent scientist, doctorate in polymer chemistry and recipient of three national awards reflected his profound knowledge on the topic and highlighted various IP rights - trademarks, patents, copyright etc, quasi -IP rights - trade secrets, confidential information etc with several case studies. He exhibited the procedures involved to apply for patents. He explained the requirements for patentability and how to write claims which triggered the young minds into thinking innovative ways. An interactive discourse ignited the inquisitiveness of the participants. The informative webinar culminated with a vote of thanks proposed by Prof. Shekhar from the Chemistry department.
