Report: The event was conducted by our talented and enthusiastic volunteers Saraah and Suhani. They began with an exciting game called 'Bollywood Guess Who', where popular friendship groups from various films were displayed in a PowerPoint presentation. It required people to guess the characters' names and films. Then, they explained the meaning of companionship portrayed through these films. This was followed by an enticing game of Chinese Whispers. It allowed participants to truly unwind and bond with others by sharing laughs and memories.

To embrace sisterhood and put friendships to the test, there is no better game than Dumb Charades with a little twist. Participants were given balloons with chits inside. They were required to burst the balloon without using their hands or legs. After bursting it, they must read the chit and enact the movie. It made everyone laugh and cherish those precious moments. Next, hand-made postcards were handed out to everyone. They were asked to write a letter to their best friend. It was the highlight of the event.

To conclude the event, our lovely volunteer Shifa gave a Vote of Thanks to the engaging and cheerful audience.

Report: The session was conducted by Ms. Sharon Jacob and Arushi Verma- the school heads for SIES School. The primary objective was making the students understand what solidarity is and trying to gauge their understanding and helping them clear their concepts about it.

The session started by explaining what the Value Lab as an association is and then proceeded towards the main agenda by asking the students what solidarity is to them. The most common answer received circled around the concepts of "unity" and "togetherness".

These concepts were used to explain the proper meaning of solidarity.

Ms. Arushi Verma, then took the examples of a few Panchatantra stories and a few real life incidents to help the students better understand what solidarity is.

After making sure their basis are clear, the students were given given a task of writing down a few reasons on 'Why they think that women should show solidarity among themselves' and

'Why should we show solidarity against bullying?'

A few students were selected to express their opinions on the same after which all the students were given another task to draw something that stands for unity or solidarity for them. The final task given to them was to make a list of words of what they understood what solidarity is

The event ended on a positive note with the students having a better understanding of what solidarity is as a value and was concluded by sharing a solidarity pledge with them.

- All volunteers along with the school heads assembled at the college's gate at 10:15 AM. Everybody left in taxis in groups of 4 and reached the school by 10:40. While waiting for the students, some of the volunteers put up the charts made, on display, while others set up the presentation. The event began at 11.15 AM and ended by 12.15 PM.

The Department of Philosophy arranged for a guidance talk by Ms. Tejashwini H to help students with their anxiety and stress during exams. The talk started with great enthusiasm by first understanding where anxiety related to exams came from. The talk highlighted how due to our irrational beliefs and thinking we bring stress upon ourselves. The talk then moved forward with the students asking questions and understanding where their self defeating thoughts come from. A philosophical touch with logic to deal with the stress during exams was helpful to the students to focus only on those things that we have control over. The talk ended by giving philosophical antidotes to bring in a better structure to help organize and strategise a study routine for the students.

Report :

The Department of Philosophy conducted a study visit to 'Chinmaya Mission trust' located in Powai, Mumbai. The second year and third year students together with our professors visited the Chinmaya Ashram. Ms. Varsha, senior volunteer from the mission, gave a guided tour of the place, explained the journey of Swami Chinmayananda, his teachings and how they manage to keep those teachings alive. The ashram is built in an infinity shape & the philosophical teachings are beautifully portrayed through its intricate architecture. There was a meditation center, vasana stambh, knowledge tree, pictures, posters on walls consisting teachings of Swami Chinmayananda, and a bridge where teachings of Bhagavad Gita were depicted. Ma'am also elaborated on how meditation is not a kriya. Students went inside the meditation room situated behind the Vasana stambh and practiced meditation for a few minutes as well. Varsha ma'am also elaborated on why there is a big swan statue built. It signified how one should be able to discriminate between right and the wrong knowledge just as the swan absorbs milk and leaves the water.

The ashram also indulges in a variety of activities for all age groups right from children to old age individuals. Students at the end of the field visit gained a good insight regarding the teachings of vedanta school of philosophy, how individual's practice it in today's fast paced lives, swami Chinmayananda's teachings & how it was relevant to the present lives of people. Everyone came out with their own philosophical perspectives towards the end which signified success of the field visit.

Title: Visit to the Advanced Centre for Treatment, Research and Education in Cancer (ACTREC)

Objective: Student exposure to Cancer research

Resource Person: Dr.Satish Munnoli, ACTREC

Date, Time & Venue: 30.11.2023, 9.30 am to 1 pm. ACTREC, Kharghar (Navi Mumbai).

Report: The visit to ACTREC was scheduled on 30.11.2023. The students were given a brief introduction to cancer research. Students were allowed to interact with research scholars and they discussed the scope of cancer research.

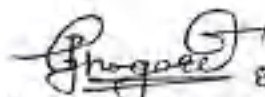

The students visited different laboratories such as Bio repository, Cytogenetics, Flowcytometer, Histopathology and Animal house. Samples from patients were preserved to study the tumor markers, cell proliferation patterns, genetic markers, chromosomal aberrations, etc. Techniques such as HPLC, flowcytometry and Fluorescent In-situ Hybridization (FISH) were demonstrated. The students were explained about the entire process of cancer detection and the role of modern medicine to find its cure.

This visit was primarily for the students of T.Y.B.Sc. and MSc. students as it is included in the syllabus, further enriching their learning experience. This experience proved fruitful to the students as it introduced the scope for research in cancer biology.

The students were accompanied by Dr. Lynn D'Lima, Assistant Professor.

Number of Attendees: 10

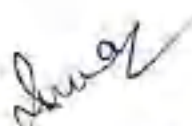

Outcome: Student exposure to cancer research

Invitation for ACTREC's Open Day – Nov 30 &amp; Dec 1, 2023

Dear HOD / Senior Faculty,

Advanced Centre for Treatment, Research, and Education in Cancer (ACTREC), established in 2001, serves as the distinguished research and development arm of the Tata Memorial Centre (TMC), situated in Kharghar, Navi Mumbai. ACTREC is wholly committed to the exploration and advancement of cancer research, with an emphasis on both fundamental and translational aspects of research.

The Center is organized into three pivotal units: a) Cancer Research Institute (CRI) whose primary focus lies on delivering a comprehensive doctoral program that attracts bright young minds from all corners of India. The institute accommodates a diverse spectrum of researchers, including post-doctoral fellows, summer trainees, as well as short and long-term trainees and interns. B) Clinical Research Centre (CRC) where our esteemed oncologists not only provide crucial clinical services to patients battling cancer but are also actively engaged in research activities and clinical trials, with a particular emphasis on addressing the distinctive requirements of cancer patients in India. C) The Cancer Centre for Epidemiology (CCE) is dedicated to studying the epidemiology of cancer in India. This involves comprehensive documentation of risk factors associated with cancer such as lifestyle choices, environmental factors, and genetic predispositions.

Collectively, these three units collaborate on various research initiatives, with the overarching goal of enhancing our understanding of cancer as a complex syndrome while striving to develop strategies that enhance the long-term survival rates of cancer patients.

ACTREC also has a mandate for education. As part of our commitment to fostering a culture of research and education in the field of cancer, ACTREC hosts an annual "Open Day" event for college students. This event provides a unique platform for students in their Bachelor's programs or pursuing Master's degrees, to experience first-hand experience of the ongoing research activities within our institution, interact with researchers, and observe unique research techniques.

For ACTREC Open Day - November 30 and December 1, 2023:

Participation Criteria: 15 students from the third year of Bachelor's degree programs or pursuing Master's degrees with one faculty member with the following details: (a) College and department (b) Name and mobile number of HOD / Principal and accompanying faculty member (c) List of students [* format attached]

Deadline for official confirmation: Tuesday, November 15, 2023

Confirmation Email: scope@actrec.gov.in & stenopool@actrec.gov.in

During the last week of November 2023, this year's open-day demonstration details will be uploaded on the ACTREC website and the schedule will be informed to selected colleges by email. We believe that your participation will not only offer a unique learning opportunity for the students but also foster a spirit of collaboration and innovation in the vital field of cancer research.

Report: By combining the values of "Tranquility" and "Courage", the Value Lab Association held an event called Artscape on August 2, 2023. In today's fast-paced and mundane lives, we all need an escape and a safe space for our mental wellbeing. Art is one such thing that provides us with a haven to express ourselves and enriches us. Hence, Mr. Dev Mehta, a well-known artist, was invited to give a lecture on art therapy. Devina Shankar and Arushi, the school heads, hosted this event. Hand and face art was done on the attendees before the event. The event then officially commenced with the host welcoming the principals, Dr. Uma Shankar and Mr. Dev Mehta.

Dev Mehta, who is an exceptionally talented artist, had an interactive session with the students wherein the questioners got the chance to have an insight into the world of art and also know about its finer details. He also showcased some of his artwork, which was beautifully done.

At the end of the event, Lavanya, the school head, gave the vote of thanks. The audience then got to see the artist make his artwork live, which he then gifted to the Value Lab Association!

Report: For the value of Novelty, The Value Lab Association decided to do something truly new — a small podcast. We were honoured to have Mr. Sushank Tomar from the Cap Foundation join us on our very first podcast.

The main focus of October's value was on animal welfare. In a world where animal cruelty is so common and thousands of volunteers everywhere are working to decrease it, we wanted to shed some light on the same. Two of our core team members — Lavanya Iyengar and Amisha Amin — had an enriching discussion with Mr. Tomar about the same. He shared his own stories of cruelty and loss, which was a thought inducing experience. Him, along with our two hosts, discussed novel ways to be more involved in animal welfare. Different and new tactics to help our furry friends that even us as students could do were brainstormed and put forth.

The lively discussion left us with a sense of purpose and empathy. Mr. Sushank Tomar's contribution to the panel gave us words of experienced wisdom, which we are determined to put to use.

Report: The Value Lab Association was all smiles for the month of December, whose value was "Happiness." The association conducted an event called "Smiles in Session" which surely brought out the jolly Christmas spirit in everybody.

This event was hosted by our very own volunteers — Vrinda Acharya and Kashaf Akhtar. They started out with a simple discussion regarding what happiness meant for everyone. As subjective as the emotion is, we surely got a variety of answers, which resulted in a lively discussion. The hosts then moved on to conduct games and activities, opening the stage for everyone to have fun

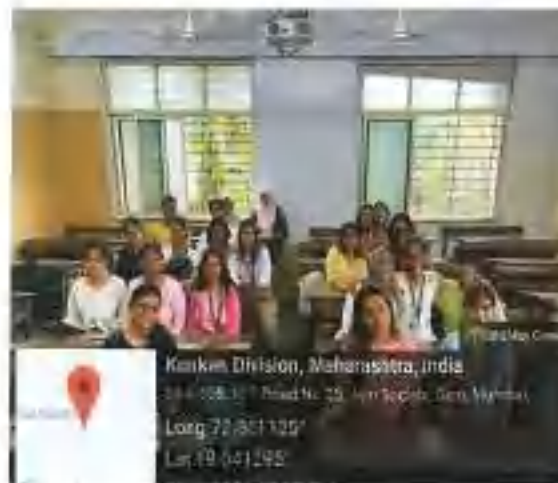

Fun questions were asked and hearty laughs were pulled out. Members of the association then came forth to read out pieces of work that they had written themselves, which resonated with the value of happiness.

To end the event on an equally cheerful note, cards with sweet compliments were handed out to everyone, and the happiness chart was overflowing with scribbles of positive feedback.

Report: The session was conducted by Mrs. Vanita Singh for the student members about the value lab and its objective where the value for the month of July was introduced as 'Tranquillity'.

The SIES Science Coordinator, Mrs. Rajeshwari Nair conducted an interactive session with student members to make them understand the meaning and importance of tranquillity in life.

The session focused on problems faced by the students in their lives. It explained how practising tranquillity can help them in facing difficult situations without getting affected by it.

An activity was conducted by Mr. Anil Jadhav in which students were asked to write on chits about what they preferred to do to keep themselves calm in stressful situations. These solution chits were collected and kept in a bowl of 'solution to be tranquil' to be kept with the value lab committee and to be used for the other children in the classroom in time of need.

Later, Ms. Jasmine Patel explained the true meaning of 'Peace in chaos - Tranquillity' through a beautiful and inspiring story related using an audio-visual aid. She conducted different types of meditations based on breathing techniques viz. alternative and mindfulness breathing techniques.

Mrs. Vanita Singh then shared the simple techniques and practices that can be implemented by students whenever they feel agitated or distracted. She also taught colour meditation and its benefits were explained. This technique is known as colour therapy and is proved to be useful when we feel tense.

At the end of the session, student members were eager to implement these techniques and took the responsibility of being the torch bearers of the Value Lab Committee to fulfil its objective towards developing Life skills.

There was no feedback form taken from the students. But, according to them, although the industrial visit was a good learning experience for them and they also interacted well with the students of M.Sc. Zoology, they suggested that the industrial visit be carried out to a different location and they even suggested visiting a pharmaceutical industry that has more relevance to M.Sc. Bioanalytical Sciences.

Bioanalytical Sciences

- A. Title of the Workshop/Activity: National Workshop on 'Vocational and Skill based Course in instrumentation' to provide hands-on training and develop skills in undergraduate students under the aegis of National Education Policy (NEP) [ Winter School December 2023]
- B. Background: Conventional teaching learning pedagogy especially in science class activities involves routine following of instructions by students given to them by teachers which leads to a lack of learning, development and training of laboratory skills. A student's approach is mechanical without making use of creative thought in why and how a scientific experiment is performed. Therefore, instead of having a conventional and pedagogic approach, this workshop attempts to have a creative and innovative Concept-based learning approach with an inquiry-based interdisciplinary curriculum centring on the principle that students should do science themselves. This workshop is an attempt to create awareness amongst students regarding the relevance of Unlearning with a spirit of inquiry for learning and relearning the concepts in sciences
- C. Aims/Objectives: The workshop aims to inculcate critical thinking and analytical reasoning in students. It will also encourage students to have an interdisciplinary approach and develop problem-solving ability in students while learning the use, care and maintenance of Instruments.
- D. Location: Bioanalytical Sciences Laboratory and Biology Labs, 3rd floor, SIES College, Sion (West), Mumbai
- E. Target audience/participants with expected number: (Target group): Undergraduate students currently pursuing B.Sc in subjects such as Biochemistry, Biological Sciences, Biotechnology, Botany, Chemistry, Environmental Science, Life Sciences, Microbiology, and Zoology. Number of participants: 50
- F. Date of the activity: Tuesday 26th December 2023 to Saturday 30th December 2023
- G. Name of Resource Persons: Faculty, Department of Bioanalytical Sciences (Dr. Satish Sarfare, Ms. Pracheta Salunkhe, Mr. Tejas Karandikar)
- H. Outcome/Feedback: The workshop created awareness regarding the need and significance of Vocational and Skill-based courses. It imparted training in laboratory instruments/equipment to students and equipped them with fresh skills/techniques necessary for handling laboratory instruments. Moreover, it increases the proficiency of students and makes them employable, whereby, they can explore job opportunities as Lab Technician/Lab Assistant /Lab Analyst in areas related to Skill Development and other Industries.

- A. Title of the Workshop/Activity: Guest lecture on Approaches to Drug Discovery and Development.
- B. Background: With a steady increase in number of diseases and disorders in today's world, it is imperative for students to understand what research that takes place when a drug is developed. Dr. Krishna Iyer was a right resource person to take us on this journey on how a molecule is chosen in a lab to its final destination i.e. consumer.
- C. Aims/Objectives: The talk was planned to enlighten the students about how a lead molecule is chosen in the field of drug development. Also, understanding of the various stages through which a drug passes through before it reaches the consumer was one of the objective.
- D. Location: SIES College of Arts, Science, and Commerce, Sion
- E. Target audience/participants with expected number: TY and MSc students
- F. Date of the activity: 31/08/2023
- G. Name of Resource Persons: - Dr Krishna Iyer, Principal Bombay College of Pharmacy
- H. Outcome/Feedback: The students gave optimistic feedback stating it was an enriching experience. The talk enlightened students on how a molecule is identified as a target when it comes to developing the drug. Also, the students understood the importance of enzyme kinetics in the area of drug discovery. The various stages of research and development carried out to introduce a drug in the market made the talk more captivating.

- A. Title of the Workshop/Activity: HACCP Internal Auditor & FoSTaC (L-1) Workshop
- B. Background: HACCP – Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point, HACCP is a management system in which food safety is addressed through the analysis and control of biological, chemical, and physical hazards from raw material production, procurement, and handling, to manufacturing, distribution, and consumption of the finished product. The preventive approach of HACCP-based procedures not only improves food safety management but also complements other quality management. Food Safety Training & Certification (FoSTaC) is a large-scale training and certification ecosystem for Food Businesses across the food value chain. Persons successfully trained & certified under FoSTaC will be termed as Food Safety Supervisor (FSS). These Food Safety Supervisors in turn will train other food handlers on their premises, to create an ecosystem of trained people. Under FoSTaC, the curriculum and content for 16 courses for different kinds of food businesses on three competency levels Basic, Advanced & Special has been created centrally by domain experts. Under FoSTaC, the curriculum and content for 16 courses for different kinds of food businesses on three competency levels I Basic, Advanced & Special has been created centrally by domain experts.
- C. Aims/Objectives: The workshop objectives were as follows
1. Significance of Food Safety
  2. Risk assessment
  3. Controlling of critical hazards
  4. Provide HACCP certification for Internal Auditor
  5. Provide FoSTaC basic level.
- D. Location: Mini Auditorium, SIES College
- E. Target audience/participants with expected number: 20 students
- F. Date of the activity: 22nd & 23rd January 2024
- G. Name of Resource Persons: Dr. Sanjay Indani
- H. Outcome/Feedback: The workshop was insightful and interactive. Students learned about food safety, hazards, and its implication on general masses. Dr. Sanjay Indani emphasized on different parameters for analyzing hazards in general food manufacturing setup, Regulatory certifications like HACCP internal auditor, FoSTaC training for primary levels.

Students were certified with HACCP internal auditor & FoSTaC (manufacturing basic level) certification.
